

GREAT CROWD SEES ELECTION NIGHT RETURNS GIVEN BY STAR-BULLETIN

Many thousand people saw the Star-Bulletin's election returns on Saturday night and were given the figures as rapidly as the count proceeded in the various precincts.

At times the crowd gathered on King street between Fort and Bethel was so large that it spilled into the adjacent areas. In spite of a light rain that fell at intervals, the people jammed the standing-space all along the block, and when "Good Night" was flashed on the screen a few minutes after midnight, there were still a hundred or so faithful followers of politics watching belated returns. Many people watched a while, went away and came back again.

With its special organization for gathering news in the precincts; with the help of numerous friends who telephoned in the latest news or brought it in on sample ballots or otherwise; with the facilities afforded by the county clerk's office and by Democratic headquarters, the Star-Bulletin perhaps had the most comprehensive election-night bureau in the history of local politics. A special room was secured through the courtesy of N. K. Young, manufacturer's agent, Wally building, who placed his office at the disposal of this paper. Into this office the Star-Bulletin put its bureau, fully equipped with telephones, typewriters, an adding-machine and other paraphernalia; and with E. K. Fernandez, who has handled election returns on the screen for years, the system for putting out the figures was complete.

Outside, the staff of precinct-workers were every city precinct. Special help was given by a detachment of Boy Scouts, who took charge in several precincts and telephoned in the news.

As dusk gathered the figures were shot across the street to the illuminated screen in front of W. W. Diamond & Company, and in a few minutes the crowd began to come. It was largest between 8 and 11 o'clock.

By 7:30 the early totals were being given out and by 8 the Star-Bulletin's figures showed the probable nomination of Hopkins for sheriff, Kaloanui for clerk and Conkling for treasurer. Half an hour later it was made certain that Wickham was nominated and about this time the Star-Bulletin showed that Mott-Smith and Hollinger were almost surely leading for the Republican supervisory nomination, and that Petrie and McClellan were far in the lead in the Democratic column.

Waimanalo as usual had its count in first. This precinct has set the lead for years in early reporting. It is a small precinct and the count is made rapidly and telephoned at once. It arrived 15 minutes after the polls closed.

The second precinct of the fourth district, Waikele, was last in, at 2:45 Sunday morning. The voting here was heavy.

The Star-Bulletin desires to extend its hearty thanks to those who assisted in the election night organization and thus made it possible to give the news to the people at the earliest possible moment. Those who voluntarily sent in news helped out a great deal.

The Boy Scouts, who aided, with the precincts in which they gathered the news, were as follows:

Ray Jacobson and W. Sampson, first precinct, fourth district, Kaimuki. Walter Matheson and William Holt, second precinct, fourth district, Waikele. Richard Shumton and F. Ewing, tenth precinct, fourth district, Pauoa. Edward Silva and Henry Cipp, ninth precinct, fifth district, Kaimuki. Carl Mortensen, tenth precinct, fifth district, Kaimuki. John Felix and Rudolph Dunce, eleventh precinct, fifth district, King street near Kaimuki school.

HONOLULU OIL IS ONE BIG FEATURE IN STOCK MARKET

Sentiment seemed slightly mixed in today's stock market after the holiday since Friday. Oiaa was a shade stronger but Hawaiian Commercial was a half off between boards. Wailua appears on the new basis of capitalization. Between boards sales were 175 shares and at the session 285. Prices on sales were Oiaa 14-14, Hawaiian Commercial 48 1/2 and 48, Pioneer 37 1/2, McBryde 10 1/2, Wailua 28 and Oahu 29.

Honolulu Oil was the feature of the unlisted market. More than 8500 shares changed hands and the price rose from $3 to $3.30 closing at the session at $3.30@33.40. Next in interest was Engels Copper, unchanged in price at $5.50, and of this stock 6245 shares were sold. Mineral Products was 48 cents with sales of 3150 shares and Mountain King was 37 cents. Quotations were 34@35cents for Montana-Bingham and 28@29 cents for Madera.

Brokers professed to be without information as to the cause of the rise in Oil and if any had the information they were keeping it to themselves up to noon today.

BUSINESSMEN TO END 'HYSTERIA'

The "Better Business" propaganda for Honolulu is going along with a rush today, taking increased impetus with a bright Monday morning, and new announcements will be made from time to time.

John Effinger of the "Better Business" committee said this morning that the whole situation in a nutshell was to keep down commercial alarm and to move along very much as before with special attention paid to economy in the food supply.

The plan of action of the "Better Business" committee will be to show improvements that are going on here municipally and industrially; to convince residents that there is no occasion for alarm and to encourage the idea that wages will at least be the same with possibly a tendency towards higher salaries; also to show that there will be no discharging of employees.

Charles R. Frazier is preparing some striking advertising matter which will forcibly present the whole proposition of the Chamber of Commerce to the public.

BIDS ARE OPENED FOR HANGARS FOR AERO SQUADRON

Tenders for Other Buildings for Airship Base Will Be Opened May 31

Local army authorities are getting ready in rapid order for the establishment of a base for the aero squadron that is due to be sent to this island, as is evident from the amount of business in this line that is being transacted at the office of Lieut-Col. R. M. McA. Schofield, constructing quartermaster.

Bids have just been opened at the construction office, it was said today, for four aeroplane hangars at Pearl Harbor, each 50 by 100 feet in floor dimensions. The low bidder for furnishing steel for the structures was the Lord-Young Engineering Company, with an offer of $23,500. No award will be announced until approval is received from Washington.

It was also announced today that bids will be opened on May 31 for the construction of a storehouse and garage at Fort Kamehameha where the aero squadron is to have its base. This building will be 42 by 125 feet in floor dimensions, and will house the tools and machine supplies of the squadron which have already begun to arrive.

POMMERN READY FOR HER VOYAGE

Everything is ready today aboard the Pommern at Pier 7 for her departure for the coast. Her steering gear and pumps are in good working order and the crew which will take care of her while she is being towed up to the coast are aboard.

When the Pommern leaves she will be the fourth ex-German boat to leave the islands this month for the mainland as a United States steamer, with the American flag flying from her in place of the German mercantile emblem. The Ahlers, Holstia and Setos are now en route.

The "Big Four"—Ahlers, Pommern, Holstia and Setos—having been cleaned up, the little boats are now getting attention. The Longmoon is on the inter-island drydock today, the Prinz Waldemar was cleaned last week and made ready for the trip, and only the two smallest, the Staatssekretar Kraetke and the Gouverneur Jaeschke, now await their turn to "do their bit" as American steamers.

Orders aggregating 150,000 tons of steel ships have been placed in Canadian yards by the Imperial Munitions Board for steamers ranging from 2,400 to 8,400 tons, to carry Canadian supplies across the Atlantic.

TWO SOLDIERS IN JAIL; SUSPECTED OF SHOOTING MAN

Peter M. Johnson of Pearl City is in the Queen's hospital today with three bullet wounds in his body, and Walter Cape and C. C. Harris, both of the Headquarters Company, 32nd Infantry, have been arrested on suspicion of being implicated in the shooting affray which took place at Pearl City last night.

The affray which the police here is that at the house of Frank Ornelias Policeman J. K. Keonaona was called in to arrest a soldier who is said to have attempted to insult someone in the Ornelias home. Keonaona in turn called upon Johnson to assist him in making the arrest, and in the melee which followed one of the soldiers is said to have fired three shots into Johnson's body.

One bullet took effect in the left elbow, another in the abdomen and the third in the left side of the chest. He was taken to the emergency hospital and later to the Queen's hospital where he is reported resting easily today. He will probably recover.

Deputy Sheriff Fernandez arrested Harris at Waiapaho shortly after the affray, and although Harris admitted being present at the shooting he said Cape was the man who did it. Upon this information Capt. McDuffie of the detectives got in touch with officers of the army and they informed the police shortly that Cape had been apprehended.

McDuffie was to go to Schofield for the prisoner this afternoon. Cape will probably be arraigned in police court tomorrow. Harris is still held for investigation.

The shooting was done with a .38 caliber revolver.

HEEN TO RETAIN PRESENT CLERK

Claus Roberts, clerk of the third division of circuit court, will be retained in office by Judge William H. Heen, the latter has announced. Roberts was appointed by James L. Cooke when he became circuit judge, and has kept on in the office since Cooke's appointment to the supreme bench.

Albion Blom, present second clerk, will probably be retained until July 1, Judge Heen says, as the new regulations provide that the second clerk shall also be a stenographer.

Judge Heen says that reports to the effect that he has appointed M. M. Springer as court reporter are erroneous. He has Springer in mind for the position, however, but there is nothing definite as yet as to who will be finally appointed. Springer is stenographer of the third circuit court at Kailua.

NEW INSPECTOR OF P. O.'S HERE

Frank J. Hare, the new postoffice inspector for this territory, is in Honolulu today, to take the place of Thomas J. Flavin, who left on the last Maui for the mainland, to reorganize his health.

The inspector was a member of the committee which made a thorough examination of the methods and efficiency of the New York postoffice, this resulting in the dismissal of Postmaster Morgan, after 35 years of service. A new postmaster has been appointed.

Hare will continue the annual inspection of all postoffices in the islands, which was started by Inspector Flavin, and had to be dropped by him when Flavin was taken seriously ill while at Hilo. The new inspector knows the territory thoroughly, as he was stationed here altogether more than 10 years, serving from 1902 to 1914. He comes from the San Francisco division, where he has been on special work, including the New York investigation.

Inspector Flavin expects to obtain at least a month's sick leave on arriving at the coast, before reporting for duty again.

This is another portion of the big construction job which Uncle Sam has ordered at the post. Yano's bid on the labor for three buildings was $2700, while the other firm bid on 18 buildings for $14,525.

Bridging Your Wants

THE thing you want is on one side—price on the other—and running between the two are the waters of expense. When selling expense is great, the waters are wide—the article you want is a great distance from the price—and it takes a lot of money to connect the two.

NEARLY every day we, you, all of us, are greeted by the announcement of "another advance in prices" of this, that and other things—advances that come faster than our advances in income. Nearly everything we use is affected until, in fact, many have become disheartened.

BUT there are things which we want and that can be had at prices which we can afford. But where are they? Ah, that's the question—where are they? Well, just to satisfy yourselves, turn to the Classified Advertising in today's Star-Bulletin and there you will find much for sale and for rent that fit your needs and your pocketbook, too.
